Researcher Success

ProQuest understands the evolution of research on a global scale – and the library’s role in advancing its institution’s research mission. We help libraries and their universities gain access to the content, tools and technology they need to enable career-defining discoveries.

NEW ProQuest TDM Studio

From an initial idea to the final output, TDM Studio from ProQuest provides access to the latest text and data mining tools, helping uncover career-defining research outcomes.

- Analyze: Access and analyze sought-after content for text and data mining with the flexibility of data analysis methods provided by ProQuest, or using preferred methods with open source programming languages R and Python.
- Connect: Uncover relationships, patterns and connections within and between datasets from a variety of sources. Collaborate in real time with your colleagues on text and data mining projects, improving productivity for your entire team.
- Discover: Gain new insights and challenge previous findings with new discoveries through text and data mining. Keep your university at the forefront of data analytics with a solution designed for not only research, but also teaching and learning.

“TDM Studio offers clear value for researchers, not only making text and data mining activities more efficient but also ensuring adherence to relevant licensing terms.”

– Kate Worlock, Vice President and Lead Analyst, Outsell

Leverage the value of your ProQuest collections across disciplines. Use TDM Studio to analyze multiple content types, including current and historical newspapers, dissertations and theses, scholarly journals and primary sources.

ProQuest One Academic

Four essential multi-disciplinary products come together in one cross-searchable platform: ProQuest Central, Academic Video Online, Academic Complete and ProQuest Dissertations & Theses Global. Together, they provide a single destination for your users and savings for your library.

Here’s what’s new in ProQuest One Academic:

- Streaming video documentaries from FILM PLATFORM and tutorials from PBS Crash Course
- 1,500 new full-text scholarly journals
- No-cost access to the new Coronavirus Research Database
- 27,000+ fully DRM-free ebooks
- Dissertations and theses from 25 new institutions across the world

Learn more about ProQuest One Academic.

ProQuest One Literature

Developed in collaboration with faculty and librarians, ProQuest One Literature brings together a wealth of primary texts across poetry, prose and plays, with multi-format resources such as video and dissertations. Its content has a unique focus on genre and author diversity, bringing to light voices who have been marginalized throughout history.

Recent additions include:

- Enhanced collection pages for 33 individual collections which include diverse collections such as African American Poetry and the African Writers Series, and more. This allows users to discretely browse and search the original works of prose, poetry, and drama contained in each collection and faculty to share links with their classes
- Non-English-language collections such as Teatro Español del Siglo de Oro, Brechts Werke and Digitale Bibliothek Deutscher Klassiker, with access to German and Spanish literature and corresponding reference documents
- Book reviews from the New York Times, The Guardian and The Washington Post – valuable sources to support the criticism and interpretation of contemporary literature

Librarian Workflow

Save time, add more value and reduce the cost of administration. ProQuest’s broad range of products and services are designed to simplify librarian workflows from end to end.

NEW ProQuest Rialto

Rialto, ProQuest’s next-generation solution that unifies and streamlines selection and acquisition workflows, comes at an essential time for libraries who need to efficiently deliver resources to their patrons. Rialto is currently in use by development partners and early-adopters throughout the world who are enjoying benefits like:

• Simplifying remote work: Rialto is fully embedded in the Ex Libris Higher-Ed cloud platform, which makes it easier for staff to collaborate, communicate and work remotely without manual steps.

• Reducing the pain of selection and acquisition: Rialto targets the most common pain points in the selection and acquisition processes for academic libraries: duplicative, manual work due to multiple systems, siloed workflows for print, electronic and digital resources, and lack of analytics for decision-making.

• Real-time balances and recommendations: Rialto gathers offers from thousands of publishers, aggregators and platforms with real-time holdings and fund balances.

“My staff and I are grateful we have Rialto in place during this time because of how simple the process is for acquisitions and turnaround for accessing ebooks.”

– Rialto Development Partner

• New recommendation feeds: librarians get quick access to ranked lists of titles meeting criteria set by their library and tuned to their preferences. Users can self-adjust their feeds to respond to changing students or faculty needs, and the system uses artificial intelligence to “learn” preferences over time.

• Expanding ebook options: Rialto users can set up a growing number of aggregator and publisher platforms for ebooks to maximize the efficiency of the library’s selection and purchasing workflow. Current options include a broad range of the most popular academic publishers as well as specialty publishers. See the full list on proquest.com.

We’re currently scheduling Rialto general availability implementations. Learn more.

Budget Management

Librarians can address budget challenges and maximize investments with ProQuest’s flexible models, unique and varied content, analysis and tools.

E Now: Convert Physical Collections to “E” – Quickly, Accurately and Affordably

As the demand for remote access to content grows, libraries are turning to ProQuest to make the electronic shift. We have expertise in mapping a library’s physical items – such as books and periodicals – to e-versions contained in ProQuest’s digital archive, which spans more than 600 terabytes and 1.5 million ebooks. ProQuest experts help libraries prioritize the conversion of digital content, including books, periodicals, government documents, newspapers, and even music scores and videos based on their institution’s curriculum and research activity.

Entertainment Industry Magazine Archive 3

The third installment of Entertainment Industry Magazine Archive builds on the previous collections by adding 12 key consumer and trade magazines devoted to film and television, from their inception through to 2015 (or the date the publication ends). It includes the backfile of The Hollywood Reporter (1930 to 2015), an indispensable source through which researchers may identify and contextualize key developments in film and entertainment over more than eight decades.
ProQuest Historical Newspapers

With more than 50 premier stand-alone historical titles dating back to the 1700s and more than 55 million digitized pages, ProQuest Historical Newspapers enables researchers to travel back centuries and become eyewitnesses to history. Every issue of each title includes full-page and article images in easily downloadable PDFs. Researchers can study the progression of views, events, people and places over time through these historical newspaper pages, including articles, photos, advertisements, classified ads, obituaries, editorial cartoons and more.

ProQuest Historical Newspapers: Canadian Stand-Alone Titles

This collection features historical newspapers found across Canada with coverage beginning as early as 1844 through as late as 2016. New titles include:

- Edmonton Journal (Edmonton, AB) 1903-2010
- Ottawa Citizen (Ottawa, ON) 1845-2010
- Saskatoon Star Phoenix (Saskatoon, SK) 1902-2009
- The Province (Vancouver, BC) 1898-2010

ProQuest Historical Newspapers Regional Collections

ProQuest Historical Newspapers includes six regional collections, each featuring the most important titles covering a specific region of the United States. New titles include:

- U.S. Midwest Regional Collection (10 new titles coming soon)
- U.S. North Central Regional Collection
- U.S. Northeast Regional Collection (2 new titles coming soon)
- U.S. South Central Regional Collection
- U.S. Southeast Regional Collection (6 new titles coming soon)
- U.S. West Regional Collection

ProQuest Historical Newspapers Regional Collections now include 21 new collections for specific states.

ProQuest Historical Newspapers: Specialty Collections

- Michigan Chronicle (1936 – 2010): A weekly Black newspaper founded in 1936 by the publisher of the Chicago Defender, the Michigan Chronicle played a significant role in the 20th-century civil rights. The Chronicle’s support of organized labor and the democratic party were viewed as radical in the newspaper’s early years. The newspaper played a critical part in breaking down the barriers of racism, bigotry and discrimination in Detroit and throughout the state. This newspaper has been digitized at the article level to be consistent with other Black Historical Newspaper titles, allowing for cross-searching and bundling.

- Leftist Newspapers and Periodicals (1900-2015): Leftist Newspapers and Periodicals are a collection of more than 140 newspapers and periodicals supporting the ideology of socialism, communism and Marxism. The collection titles were published throughout the English-speaking world from 1900-2015. Issues covered include workers’ rights, organized labor, labor strikes, Nazi atrocities, McCarthyism’s rise after WWII, Civil Rights and modern-day class struggles which give rise to renewed interest in alternative social organizations.
Women's History

Women and Social Movements in the U.S.

• The Spring issue, “Sexualities and Bodies,” features a very rich document project by Jamie Wagman entitled “Transgender in the Heartland: Transitioning and Seeking Community in Middle America.” This project consists of oral history interviews – both audio files and transcripts – of 20 transgender women and men who grew up or currently live in the Midwest, many in small towns and rural areas. Also included is a roundtable: “Women, Gender, and Sexuality in the Archives.”

• The Fall 2020 issue focuses on questions of women’s citizenship and state power in the mid-20th century U.S. It features two document projects that show how different American constituencies grappled with the growing power of the Federal government and the struggle to define the meaning of national citizenship in ways that accorded with their own understanding of their place within the national polity.

Men's History

GQ Archive, U.S. Edition

The digital GQ Archive, which is the longest-running men's interest magazine in the English language, will make available a wealth of editorial content and photography, shedding light on the history of fashion, popular culture, masculinity and society. This collection will open new opportunities for researchers to explore 90 years of content on contemporary ideas and attitudes.

Men's Magazine Archive

This pioneering digital collection of men's interest magazine backfiles not only serves research in men's studies but also offers important additional perspectives for women's studies. This collection features influential publications such as National Police Gazette (1845-1977) and Argosy (1882-1978), as well as general interests (Esquire, U.K. edition), fashion (M) and sports (All Sports Illustrated Weekly, Sports Budget).

U.S. History

History Vault: Japanese-American Incarceration: Records of the War Relocation Authority

Following the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and the U.S. entry into World War II in December 1941, the Roosevelt administration decided that for reasons of “military necessity,” the government would evacuate all persons of Japanese heritage from the West Coast states. The Records of the War Relocation Authority document the day-to-day running of the 10 relocation camps from 1942-1946.

History Vault: Temperance and Prohibition Movement

This module contains records and publications of the principal organizations which sought to reduce and ultimately to eliminate the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages in the United States.
Black History

NEW! History Vault: Slavery, the Slave Trade and Law and Order in the 19th Century America

This module documents the international and domestic slave trade in Britain’s New World colonies and the U.S., providing important primary-source material on the business aspect of slavery. In addition to records on the slave trade, this module also includes letters received by the Attorney General on law and order in 19th century America. These letters cover the slave trade, as well as other matters related to slavery – including the rights of enslaved people, runaway enslaved people, and other legal issues.

Early Modern History

NEW! Early European Books Collection 17

This collection of 2,000 titles focuses on law and politics, with discourses on government and political theory. The materials will include ordinances, edicts, proclamations and political tracts on topics of jurisprudence. Content comes from Bibliothèque nationale de France with 20% of the materials from Bibliothèque de l’Arsenal.

Early European Books Collection 18

This collection of 1,500 titles will include History Chronicles from the Early Modern Period. Content comes from Bibliothèque nationale de France with 20% of the materials from Bibliothèque de l’Arsenal.

Military & Diplomatic History

NEW! History Vault: CIA Cold War Research Reports and Records on Communism in China and Eastern Europe

This module consists of two major series of records: CIA Research Reports from 1946-1976 and records collected by Raymond Murphy on Communism in China and Eastern Europe from 1917-1958. Beginning in 1946 with reports of the CIA’s predecessor, the Central Intelligence Group, CIA Research Reports reproduces over 1,500 reports on eight areas: Middle East; Soviet Union; Vietnam and Southeast Asia; China; Japan, Korea, and Asian security; Europe; Africa; and Latin America. This series deals with international questions and biographical reports, offering profiles of relatively unknown leaders.

The Murphy Collection provides information on war recovery efforts, international aid and the formation of countries and substantial information on the Chinese Communist Party.

Cultural History

Health and Fitness Magazine Archive

With publications aimed at a male readership (including Flex and Men’s Health) and women’s titles (including Women’s Health and Women’s Health Activist), this collection supports research in topics such as the history of sex roles, body image, fitness, exercise, public health, nutrition and medicine. The backfile of Prevention (from 1950) offers over six decades of content reflecting contemporary developments in these areas.
Social Science Premium Collection

The full text of more than 200 new scholarly journals across the social sciences have been added in the last 12 months, including:

- International Journal of Qualitative Methods and Research and Politics (both Sage)
- Nature Human Behaviour (Nature Publishing Group)
- Journal of Baltic Science Education (Scientia Socialis Ltd.)
- Journal of Academic Advising and Spectrum (Indiana University Press)
- East Asian Community Review and Journal of International Business Policy (Palgrave Macmillan)
- English Teaching (Emerald)
- Advances in Health Sciences Education and Journal of Developmental and Physical Disabilities (Springer Nature)
- Journal of Germanic Linguistics and Global Sustainability (Cambridge University Press)

“[Social Science Premium Collection]’s chief strengths are its broad scope of content across the social science spectrum, and the inclusion of discipline-standard A&I databases.”

– The Charleston Advisor, April 2020

U.S. Government

Regulatory Insight: Historic Rules & Guidance

Regulatory Insight Historic Rules & Guidance is a collection of historic documents, most issued prior to 1936. The product includes manuals, circulars, orders and more, sourced from Executive Branch Documents. ProQuest experts compile rules associated with specific public laws enacted prior to the creation of the Federal Register. Upon completion, the collection will include approximately 60,000 documents.

Executive Branch Documents – Collection 6

The collection includes 60,000 records from 1949-1952. Containing documents produced by Federal government departments, agencies and commissions, it touches upon all aspects of U.S. social, political and economic life, as well as major events in U.S. history.
Policy

NEW! Trends & Policy: U.S. Immigration
This collection connects policies implemented by the U.S. government, and the data-driven results and trends of those policies. It also provides context with analytical reports and news articles. Presented in a unique interface designed specifically to help researchers make key connections and discoveries, this project includes timelines, topic pages and data visualization tools.

NEW! DNSA: President Daily Briefings, Part 2: Nixon and Ford
This collection covers the Nixon and Ford presidencies. It provides scholars with actual top-secret intelligence reports provided daily to the White House on global developments during a critical period in the Cold War.

Global Issues

NEW! Mass Incarceration and Prison Studies
This resource looks at the history of incarceration not only in the United States, but globally. The main themes and events related to mass incarceration and the history of prisons are easily explored by providing multiple perspectives and points of entries: court cases, prison experience (first-hand accounts), law and government documents, rehabilitation, training materials, policing and law, prison and identity, and theory.

DNSA: Donald Rumsfeld Files
This collection will eventually publish every “snowflake” memo the Secretary of Defense circulated during his tenure – more than 65,000 in all. Covering some of the most significant and sensitive issues from a tumultuous period, these memos offer an extraordinary schematic of U.S. defense and national security policy in the months prior to and after the 9/11 terrorist attacks.

RapidILL

With many libraries now operating in remote mode, electronic alternatives have become even more important. The RapidILL interlibrary loan solution is the solution of choice for many libraries. RapidILL, designed by librarians for librarians, streamlines and automates interlibrary loan processes, reduces turnaround time and cuts costs.

RapidILL highlights:

- Turnaround time: Less-than-24-hour receipt of article and book chapter requests
- Smart routing: Dynamic request routing using an algorithm that utilizes load-leveling and time zone awareness
- Streamlined workflows: automated processing to minimize staff time for request management
- Peer-to-peer: pod structure and prioritization configurations enhance consortial and partner resource-sharing agreements
- Automated processing designed specifically to meet the needs of interlibrary resource sharing
- Industry-leading customer service

Rapido

Rapido is a discovery-to-delivery library resource sharing platform focused on staff efficiency and patron services. For staff, Rapido automates and simplifies the borrowing and lending processes, helping them manage a high volume of requests efficiently. For patrons, Rapido provides a central location where they can find and access the materials they need — quickly.

Highlights:

- The Rapido development partner program includes participants from North America and Australia, with the first “go-live” planned for late 2020
- Rapido includes a shared holding index of all libraries with their lendability terms
- Rapido is developed as a discovery-to-delivery solution, with a new patron-focused discovery layer and a new staff interface for effectively managing resource sharing requests
- Rapido supports both returnable and document delivery via RapidILL functionality

The Ex Libris App Center

The Ex Libris App Center provides a searchable repository of community apps and extensions where users can find and download apps that fill their needs. We’re now adding support for Cloud Apps which run inside the Ex Libris platform.

Cloud Apps are built by the community and can be installed by end users in any Ex Libris platform product: Alma, Esploro, Leganto and Primo VE back office. Cloud Apps can add new functionality, integrate with other systems or provide optimized custom workflows. Cloud Apps can be found on the Ex Libris App Center and installed in Alma.
