INTRODUCTION

This Contents Guide was produced for use with THE CORNELL UNIVERSITY COLLECTION OF WOMEN'S RIGHTS PAMPHLETS, on microfiche.

SECTION I, Page -1-

It has three sections. The first is a listing of every pamphlet in chronological order, each followed by a brief abstract of the content of the pamphlet and preceded by an assigned microfiche number, which directs the user to the appropriate document.

SECTION II, Page -17-

The second is an author section, alphabetically listed and keyed again to corresponding microfiche, strictly by author, but without article descriptions.

SECTION III, Pages -19- & -20-

The third section contains separate alphabetical listings of WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS and GOVERNMENT REPORTS. As in Section II, the entries are keyed to specific microfiche but do not describe or abstract the pamphlets. 19. WARD, EDWARD JOSHUA, 1880- WOMEN SHOULD MIND THEIR OWN BUSINESS. NEW YORK, NATIONAL AMERICAN WOMAN SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION (1912) 8p. 18cm.

A potent argument for women to have a voice in FRAMING laws which they must submit to as well as men. Treats very nicely with the traditional sphere of women which is useful industry and acts, as opposed to men's which is mostly war.

20. HOWARD, CLIFFORD, 1868- WHY MAN NEEDS WOMAN'S BALLOT. NEW YORK, NATIONAL AMERICAN WOMAN SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION (1912) 16p. 18cm.

Without the full help of women, it would be impossible to fight vice, corruption, disease, and poverty. Only those who thrived on vice and corruption would be against it.

22. BLACKWELL, ALICE STONE, 1857- "MILITANT METHODS." NEW YORK, NATIONAL AMERICAN WOMAN SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION (1912) 14p. 18cm.

7. EASTMAN, MAX, 1883- IS WOMAN SUFFRAGE IMPORTANT? 3RD. ED. NEW YORK, MEN'S LEAGUE FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE (1912) 22p. 15cm.

A prime male moving force in the battle for women's suffrage stating that their passionate interests are what are needed in government and standards and high morals of men would in fact be uplifted.

The author relates the origin of women's inequality to the inequality of the common man a few generations before. The kings, priests, and nobles treated the masses as men regard women.

Eastman feels strongly that acting as a citizen is what was most important to a woman after getting the right to vote. Knowledge-by-experience was the way to get them acting in their own behalf.

A most interesting description of woman as a mystery - at least to men.
